To whom it may concern,

Prep Charter High School is aware of the video currently circulating on social media involving several of our students. We want to emphasize that the content of this video does not accurately reflect our school community or the values we strive to uphold every day.

While some students may have agreed to be filmed, the way the footage was presented lacks important context and has led to a portrayal that is misleading and unfair. The video titled "Can You Read?" does not represent the character, effort, or abilities of our students as a whole.

Furthermore, the resulting posts also shared on social media regarding the disciplinary action of the student who recorded the video are also an inaccurate portrayal of our school's mission, which focuses on maintaining a respectful and supportive environment for all students. Our priority remains ensuring that every student feels valued and that our school continues to reflect the standards of academic growth, integrity, and digital responsibility that define Prep Charter. We appreciate the community's understanding and continued support.

"Although FERPA rules do not allow me to discuss the details of what disciplinary action was taken, the student in question is not facing expulsion, or denied prom or graduation."

Sincerely,

Prep Charter Administration
